Transforming lives through disabled people

No Turning Back!

Through the Roof's International Mission to Moldova

Happy Holidays

India Changed My Life

Out of the Box in Ghana

'Look, No Hands'

'We now know that with this work there must be no turning back,' wrote Pastor Slavic from Dancu, after our Integr8 team had returned from his church. 'The need is so big we must do something. This is what the Lord put in our hearts. I was so encouraged by my team of church volunteers who gave their hearts and love to these people.'

Last November an eight person team from Integr8 travelled to Moldova, the poorest country in Europe, to work alongside the UK charity Breadline and their local partners. We spent eight days in Dancu, a village in the southwest, near the Romanian border. The team felt we had a real impact and made a difference to the lives of many disabled people there.

Pastor Slavic continued, 'the greatest day of the week was Thursday when for first time in our village we had over 50 parents and their disabled children for a meeting which [the] Through the Roof team helped with. We saw tears from parents when they shared their experience and it was a blessing to see how they encouraged each other and no longer feel so lonely... It was such a great blessing to see gifts that each person brought which God used to bless and encourage so many people here'

This workshop was a special time, enjoyed by all the participants. We used puppets, role-plays and personal testimony to share information, advice and encouragement. Team member, Catherine wrote that

'As people open their mouths they also open a little of their hearts. As heart-rending stories are shared, tears flow and the love of God fills the room... the children and some of the adults are playing together. Everyone together, round the parachute. Talking, laughing, crying. They are not alone and for the first time they know it.' We're delighted to hear that those families have formed an ongoing support group. This is a lasting legacy of the Integr8 trip, and we're glad to see disabled people and families who were isolated coming together to form encouraging and supportive communities.

The team also visited local disabled people to hear about their lives in rural Dancu, and to share experiences from the UK. This was a trip highlight for many of the team and for the local people visited. It was challenging, but great for us to see people at home, and for our hosts to be encouraged and hear the testimonies of our own young disabled advocates. One young disabled Moldovan later told Breadline that it had been the highlight of their year! The team loved the personal approach, spending time with each person, sharing the love of God and showing them how much they are valued.

It's a great beginning, and we'll be sending another team to Moldova in September to continue the work. There are still spaces available to join the trip - please get in touch if you'd like to find out even more, and look out for future updates.

Welcome Ros

A big welcome to Ros Bayes, who joined Through the Roof as our Training Resources Developer this January. Her role is to update our existing resources, and develop new materials on all aspects of disability and church life. Ros is the mother of three girls, one of whom has autism and has quadriplegic cerebral palsy and partial sight. This has given her insight into a variety of disabilities and their effects on the whole family.

For thirty-five years Ros has been a member of a church in Aldershot. For the past twenty-five years she has been working part-time as a freelance writer for Christian and disability publications and she worked for a time as the Disability Adviser at her local College. In 2001 she trained as a teacher and spent ten years teaching Religious Studies in a large secondary school and sixth form. For the last two years she has been working full time as a writer, and has written five school textbooks and two devotional books.

Ros says, "I am passionate about seeing churches understand and value the disabled people in their communities, and am very excited about the opportunity I have been given to make a real difference in this area."

...And Welcome Reninca

Reninca Hill is our new International Missions Manager – we introduced her very briefly in the last issue, so here's a bit more from her... 'I am really enjoying and excited about working for Through the Roof. I have been living and working in Haiti for the past five years. My husband and I moved there in 2008 and founded a respite centre to support families with disabled children. Anyone with disabilities suffers a lot of stigma in Haiti. The word for disability there is 'cocabi', which means 'worthless'. I ran a community based rehabilitation team doing disability awareness and stigma reduction in schools, churches and groups, working with over 200 families in rural areas and communities. After the devastating earthquake of 2010, we set up a rehabilitation centre, which became a permanent centre for people with stroke, spinal cord injury and disabilities.

Reninca (r) went on our 2013 Ghana distribution a week after starting at TTR

Whilst working for Haiti Hospital Appeal, we met Glenda from Wheels for the World, and received 123 brand new wheelchairs from Through the Roof. One of our patients was injured in the earthquake, but went on to represent Haiti in the Paralympics! This led us to set up an inclusive centre for disability sport in the North of Haiti, increasing disability awareness and challenging perspectives. I am excited about applying my experience of Haiti to other countries, and to help grow the wonderful work of Wheels and Integr8 International!

Come Fishing Online

We've now started offering the monthly 'Come Fishing' online at www.throughtheroof.org/audio. 'Come Fishing' is an hour (or thereabouts) of prayer, news, fellowship and music, brought to you by Jenny Edwards MBE, and it's now free to download on our website. Come Fishing is still available by subscription on CD or tape – get in touch with the office if you'd like to receive it.

Happy Holidays

DCF will be running two UK holidays in 2014, and we've still got a few spaces for guests and helpers. Those places are limited, so please get in touch now if you'd like to come along.

Treloar College, Hampshire (26th to 30th May) will host our activity holiday. Similar to last year at Hinwick, the holiday will feature an action-packed programme (with swimming, all-ability cycles, and trips out) at a fully accessible venue, and plenty of time to relax too.

There'll be another holiday to Babbacombe (28th June - 5th July) for a week of beautiful views, trips out and fellowship.

We're also thinking about a retreat break, from October 13th to 15th at a lovely venue in Hertfordshire. If you're interested in taking part, please do get in touch and let us know.

Looking further ahead, we're planning a DCF holiday to Israel in November 2015. This promises to be an exciting, educational and uplifting trip. If you'd like to come along, please let us know.

Accessible activities on the 2013 Hinwick holiday. We'll have a range of new challenges at the Treloar holiday this year.

Reviewing the Situation

Ros is reviewing our publications to identify gaps where more resources are needed. She's after the views of as many disabled Christians as possible, and has four questions to help identify the most common issues.

The four questions are:

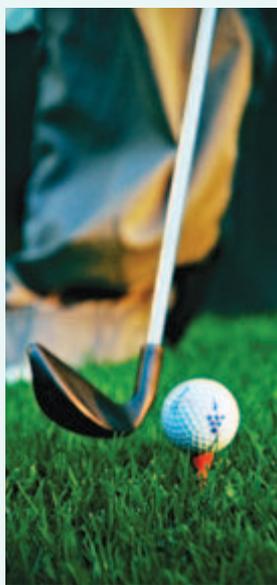

- What one thing do you wish churches knew?
- What's the most important thing your church could do for you?
- What things do you wish your church would let you do for them?
- What positive benefits does your disability add to your relationship with God?

She'd welcome responses to these questions, either by mail to our office (PO Box 353 Epsom KT18 5WS), telephone (01372 737042) or by email to ros@throughtheroof.org. Thank you for all of your input!

The TTR Golf Day

On Thursday 8th May Through the Roof is running a brand new fundraising event: a charity golf day at Tyrrells Wood Golf Course in Leatherhead. This is a golf day with a difference, featuring three unique competitions as well as the 18 Holes Stableford. Reflecting our disability focus we will have prizes for 'Wheelchair seated longest drive' and 'Blindfolded Putting', along with a Wii Golf Challenge in the club house. For more information on booking a place or on sponsoring this event, please phone the office or email margaret@throughtheroof.org.

A Concerted Effort

A big thank you to all those who came along to support our Gospel Concert at the beautiful St Clement Danes chapel in January. The concert raised just over £500 and we're hoping to repeat the event next year, perhaps with a different style of music.

Dear Friends...

We're in another year of new ministry opportunities here at Through the Roof, and exciting things are on the horizon – we are developing more training materials to help churches embrace families affected by disability, we're strengthening our network of disability ministries across the UK, and we're expanding our international outreach to include more training opportunities and Wheels for the World distributions!

And it's all new. When it comes to 2014, God does not intend to do the same thing He did last year, a second time around. He says in Isaiah 43:18-19, 'Forget the former things; do not dwell on the past. See, I am doing a new thing!' He is about to do something better this year. He is not satisfied with the updated and revised version— He's always quick to create something fresh and firsthand.

All of us at Through the Roof are convinced His plans for our disability outreach this year will outshine the past. His blueprint for us is hot-off-the-press and He's preparing the team here (including you) to make a difference for Christ among thousands of disabled people and their families. You have a part in it all, friend, as we head deeper into 2014. God bless you for being a part of the Through the Roof team with your prayers and gifts – together, let's watch Him do something new!

Yours in His care,

Joni Eareckson Tada

What Does 'Freedom' Mean To You?

Cathy was hurtling along the promenade at Hove in Sussex. She is partially sighted, and her wheelchair was being towed by two energetic guide dogs. "I'm free!" she screamed, "this is real freedom." But Cathy's freedom was running away with her. At top speed Cathy, dogs and chair were rushing to the edge – about to tumble twelve feet into the sea.

"Let go of the leads!" cried my wife Edith. At the very last minute, Cathy let go. The dogs dashed into the sea, swimming round to the partially submerged steps. A holidaymaker tapped Cathy's chair around so that she slowed down into the car park.

Cathy's freedom was very nearly the last freedom she had.

A lot of what we do at Through the Roof is to enable people, particularly disabled people, to find physical and spiritual freedom in Christ. 'Freedom' is one of our planned outcomes.

So many of the folk who come to a wheelchair distribution arrive crawling along the ground or carried. They have very limited freedom. Their environment is either at ground level or restricted by what others want to do. When fitted with a wheelchair or other aid, their horizons expand. Along with a wheelchair, people hear about Jesus and the freedom he gives. They receive a Bible in their own language and can read Jesus' words: "If you hold to my teaching, you are really my disciples. Then you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free... So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed." (John 8 31-36).

Cathy's freedom was nearly her destruction. The freedom we offer is special by Jesus. In Vital Link you will read about 'freedom' experiences that we have been able to open up. You'll also read about the increase in our staff, and the investments we are making in new work, bringing this freedom to more people. Please continue to support and invest in our ministry of offering freedom in Christ.

Mike Townsend (chair), on behalf of the Board.

Wheels for the World brings physical freedom to hundreds of people with every distribution

Training to Make a Difference

Recently, our Youth Ambassador Philippa was asked to deliver training to 15 staff from across the Salvation Army at their HQ in London. She reports here on how it went...

I first spoke about my personal experience of being blind since birth, and about Through the Roof. Then I asked the group to close their eyes and imagine how they would feel if they had lost their sight. "How would you go shopping? How would you read your Bible?" The group's reactions ranged from anger due to the situation to sadness and frustration, as they gained greater empathy with people affected by disability.

Next they were invited to try a sighted guide experience, firstly the wrong way, then the right way. Most people felt 'exposed' and unsafe when they closed their eyes and were pushed in front by a sighted person. When following the sighted person, holding on to their extended elbow, they unanimously decided that was most secure. Next, some tried my mobility cane to navigate – most people said that this made them feel vulnerable.

The message I tried to convey was that it's our attitudes that really matter.

If we are willing to reach out, we can build bridges. But if not, disabled people can feel alone and unwelcome.

Everyone appreciated the input and left with a fresh perspective, committing to make a difference in their work. A few months later the Salvation Army ordered 700 copies of our Be a Roof Breaker and All Welcome guide publications to be distributed across the country – a real encouragement.

Could your church benefit from Philippa's unique insights of disability? Please contact us.

Get in touch if you'd like to invite Philippa, or one of our other speakers to your event

India Changed My Life

by Abigail Smith

In 2008 Abigail joined an Integr8 team mission to India as a 'young ambassador'. Her role was to inspire teachers, church and community leaders to think and act inclusively towards disabled people. Abigail has mild autism and was averse to change, the heat and spicy food! She writes here about how this trip enabled her to return to India recently...

Having the opportunity that Integr8 gave me is something I thought would never happen. I'm so grateful that I trusted in God and went to India, it changed my life.

Having Aspergers I didn't know how I would manage with all the changes in a different culture. To my surprise, and with God's help, I managed very well. So much so that I recently returned to India with my church.

During this trip I achieved several things. Although I had an idea of the culture differences, this time I had to deal with them mostly by myself. One morning I arranged to help at the nursery, run by one lady in the church we visited. I sang songs with them, organised elephant craft and asked them simple things in English. If I hadn't been to India before I don't think I would have had the confidence to ask to help in the nursery. I even managed to haggle in the market.

Integr8 gave me confidence to do things on my own. It meant I was able to help more and use my initiative, for example including some of the other kids in park games during kids club. Having a disability doesn't mean you can't go on mission, 'For I can do all things through Christ, who gives me strength.' Philippians 4:13

If you have personal or professional experience of disability and want to use your skills to encourage others to make a difference, contact International Missions Manager, reninca@throughtheroof.org

'All May Change, But Jesus Never'

by Jenny Edwards MBE

I am writing this on January 2nd, very soon after countries around the world have celebrated the start of a new year. Fireworks and parties take place at enormous expense in order that we can say goodbye to the previous year and hello to the new one! I often wonder though how many people actually say goodbye to all that has happened the previous year. We will have some things that we hold very precious, and others we want to forget, but one thing will remain constant. God's love for us never changes or fails. I am reminded of that old chorus, 'Yesterday, today, forever, Jesus is the same. All may change, but Jesus never! Glory to His Name!'

How amazing, our God NEVER changes, whatever we do, say or think in 2014, through all things, God's love towards us will never falter and that is worth all the fireworks anyone can muster!

Flowstore's Art Auction Raises Fantastic Funds

The amazing staff at our Wheels corporate sponsor Flowstore have raised over £900 by holding an art auction. All the main items were drawn, painted or photographed by the staff, in this simple but very effective fundraiser. £900 has sponsored another 22 wheelchairs – bringing the total sponsored by Flowstore staff to 61!

Thank you to all the staff at Flowstore!

Multiplying Ministry

Disability ministry and mission is multiplying across the country as Through the Roof acts as a catalyst for Area Networks, creating new activity with and alongside disabled people. With Christ at the centre, the vision for the networks – which fits into Through the Roof's overall vision – is for a UK church enriched by the full involvement of disabled people and their families.

We are seeing this fulfilled in many ways. A young man with learning disabilities is encouraged to join the welcome team at his church in Bath; while a church minister accepts the opportunity for an 'open conversation' about disability. In Liverpool, church leaders are invited to participate in an inclusive worship service that embraces the different gifts of disabled people; and a church in Edinburgh appoints a Mum with two autistic teenagers to the new role of Disability Inclusion Co-ordinator for their church.

These are encouraging signs of new life as networks aim to:

- Build supportive relationships of shared values
- Connect Christians with existing activities
- Serve local churches to grow inclusive church together

The Bath area network, meeting regularly to support and encourage one another

Members of these networks – who are young and not-so-young, with personal or professional experience of disability – achieve this change through praying together, offering an 'open conversation' to church leaders, and organising training and events that demonstrate a Christian approach to inclusion.

Tim Wood, Through the Roof's Chief Executive, said, "I am excited by the way in which God is guiding Through the Roof, leading us to support local people to initiate change and new activities that fully involve disabled people and embrace their gifts."

If you are interested in connecting with one of the current networks, or would like support to start one in your area, please e-mail: tim@throughtheroof.org or phone the office on 01372 749955.

Opportunities at the Warehouse

The Wheels for the World warehouse in Aldershot is continuing to thrive. We currently have 157 wheelchairs ready to be shipped and 150 on their way to Kenya. We have been blessed with lots of wheelchair donations and have a great pile ready to go to the workshop at Parkhurst prison to be repaired. The warehouse is organised with wheelchairs downstairs and children's chairs, crutches, walkers, cushions, etc on the mezzanine, as well as a space for a workshop area to help make small repairs ourselves.

We have plenty of opportunities for people to volunteer with Wheels for the World and are looking for people who can offer time to assist in the warehouse. This can be once every other month, once a month, once a week or just from time to time. Any help will be greatly appreciated. You do not need to know anything about wheelchairs as full training will be given. You just need to be willing, eager and be physically able to move equipment. Please contact reninca@throughtheroof.org if you are able to help.

We also need drivers to do various trips around the country to collect or drop off chairs. This would be infrequent work, but really help in all we do with Wheels.

Wheelchairs at the warehouse - ready for loading up

Wheelchairs aren't the only things we can accept. We're also interested in donations of children's old car seats (to be used as positioning aids), an old smart phone, and an old wheely suitcase. Unfortunately, we can't accept blankets as we have a good supply and we are unable to ship them to many of our host countries due to customs issues.

Out of the Box in Ghana

A Wheels for the World distribution does plenty of work besides fitting wheelchairs. Caring professionals respond to each individual's needs; like helping 'Blessed', a little boy with spina bifida who came wanting a wheelchair. The team provided his mum with education and positioning aids to help assist him in his development and develop his strength and mobility. The team showed their ability to think out of the box while using a box as a positioning aid for him to sit in!

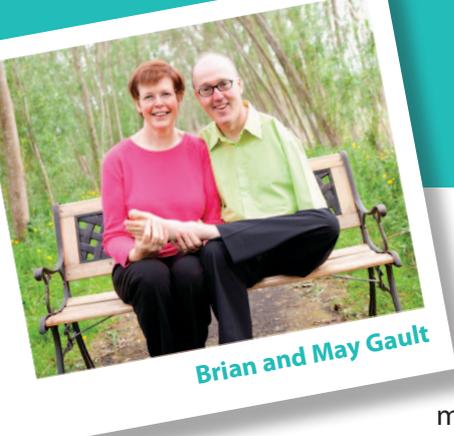

In November 2013, Wheels sent a team to Ho in the Volta Region of Ghana to distribute wheelchairs. The group of nine, all from different backgrounds, really connected and worked incredibly hard over six distributions to three different places. Working in partnership with Ellen and Light Outreach, they saw and helped more than three hundred people.

It was amazing seeing how the wheelchairs changed lives. Dzaramando caught polio when he was three years old and has crawled ever since. He has strong calluses on his legs to show this. In 2008 Wheels gave him his first wheelchair. He's now an auditor for a finance firm and uses it to travel to work more easily. The wheelchair is now broken from six years good use, so he has returned to crawling. He was very excited to receive another wheelchair from Wheels, as it means he can continue working. He lives with his wife and children, and became a Christian 20 years ago when he realised his life was fruitless. He has worn out his Bible with use, so was delighted to receive a new one to share with his friends.

Full daily blogs from the trip can be found on our website at www.throughtheroof.org/wheels-blog

Brian and May Gault

Look, No Hands, But Lots of Heart

As a result of the 1960s Thalidomide scandal, Brian Gault was born without arms, but his huge heart for others means he has blessed thousands.

He attended Fleming Fulton, Belfast – a school that has supported Through the Roof for many years, and became a Christian almost 40 years ago. He now dedicates his life to sharing God’s love and faithfulness. Working alongside his wife, May, Brian’s ministry, ‘Look, No Hands!’ travels to encourage others, speaking at agricultural shows, churches, schools, disability groups, etc. Brian says, “Our desire is to reach the lost with the bestest news ever - Jesus - plus raise the topic of disability when appropriate.” Due to the generosity of people they have also been able to provide a range of practical helps to disabled children and adults.

At the agricultural shows and shopping malls Brian writes with his toes on picture postcards with cats, horses, flowers, boats etc and the scripture verse, “He Cares For You....” (1 Pet. 5:7). People of all ages’ expressions on seeing Brian writing their name and date is a joy to witness. He writes an average 180 cards per day and everyone they chat with receives a free DVD of his testimony.

Brian and May partner with The Brazilian Thalidomide Society, providing much-needed equipment to disabled children, and raise extensive funds for Wheels. In a recent interview with Inspire magazine (at <http://goo.gl/AIUxwy>), Brian said, “We are also thrilled that in partnership with Wheels for the World...we have provided funds towards the cost of refurbishing, spare parts, transporting and fitting of 116 wheelchairs for disabled children, teenagers and adults”. Praise God, since then it’s reached 172 wheelchairs!

We are thankful for Brian, for his big faith and big heart. For more of his story, read his book, ‘Look, No Hands!’, or contact him at: briangault@btinternet.com

Could You Help on an Integr8 Mission Trip?

We are looking for people with a passion for Jesus who want to travel overseas, grow in faith and make a positive difference, inspiring a spirit of inclusion within communities in developing countries. We need Christian professionals with skills and experience of working with disabled children, and young people (16+) or family members with personal experience of disability to act as positive role models. You will be part of a small team providing training and ideas on the inclusion of disabled children, and you will benefit from the amazing experience of life in another country and a greater dependence on God.

Could You Come on a Wheels for the World Trip?

We need dedicated volunteers with a clear Christian faith. Team roles include

The Ghana 2013 team.

Could you be part of one of our international teams?

physiotherapists, occupational therapists, and mechanics who make minor adjustments to wheelchairs under the direction of therapists. Teams also include an administrator, a photographer and somebody to offer pastoral support and teaching. All team members fund themselves, usually with backing from their church, work colleagues and friends.

If you’re interested in volunteering on any of our international missions, please speak to Reninca at the office.

Making A Difference

Gifts from wills currently account for just 5% of Through the Roof's annual income, so together we have great potential to reach many more people and make a bigger difference to the lives of disabled people in the years ahead.

'Go quickly into the streets and bring in the people who are poor, hurt, blind or disabled... Go out to the country lanes and compel them to come in so that my house will be full.'

Leave a Piece of Heaven on Earth

Your legacy to Through the Roof can change lives

"This is exactly what she would have wanted"

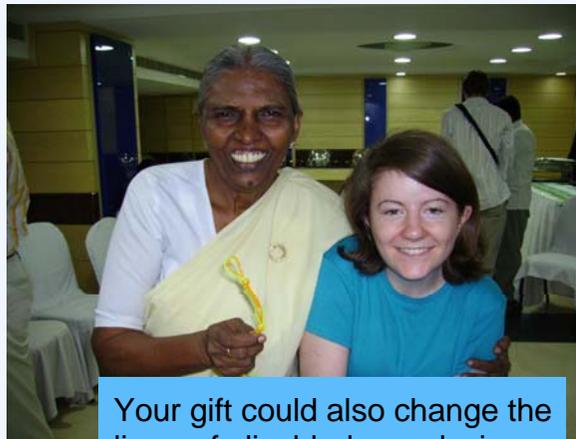

Jenny, Doreen's friend.

Doreen left Through the Roof a generous gift in her will so others would benefit from our work as much as she did. With the help of her legacy we launched a new activity holiday to attract all ages and abilities.

To the delight of many guests - new and previous, young and not-so-young - everyone joined together to share new experiences, food and friendship. They took the opportunity to overcome physical and spiritual challenges and to grow in confidence and faith. New guest, April, exclaimed, "This has been a bit of heaven because I've known nothing but love each day!"

Thank you to Doreen who left a little piece of heaven!

Your gift could also change the lives of disabled people in developing countries; help us support young disabled people on mission; or resource Christians and churches to become welcoming communities that fully include disabled people.

You
Can Change
Lives

DO YOU ALREADY HAVE A WILL?

It is possible to make a change, or add a new instruction if you want Through the Roof to benefit from a gift - this is called a codicil. Contact a solicitor for advice.

Leaving a gift to charity in your will can reduce the amount of tax that may have to be paid. Your solicitor is the best person to advise you but the following are the main options...

DIFFERENT OPTIONS

PERCENTAGE SHARE: An allotted percentage of your estate e.g. 5%.

RESIDUARY GIFT: This is the remainder of your estate after family and loved ones have been provided for, and any debts and taxes paid.

PECUNIARY GIFT: This is a fixed amount specified by you. It will usually decrease in value over time due to inflation.

SPECIFIC GIFT: You could leave a particular item to charity e.g. jewellery, antique or property.

REVERSIONARY GIFT: You can leave a gift to family or friends. Upon their death, the gift reverts to someone else, or to a charity.
